

SCIENTIFIC TRIPS

AR23489679 "Formation of an effective system of local self-government in Kazakhstan: status, problems, solutions, innovations"

According to the approved schedule of the grant project on the topic: "Formation of an effective system of local self-government in Kazakhstan: state, problems, solutions, innovations" conducted research for a grant project on local self-government.

The research work was carried out in Almaty, Zhetysu and East Kazakhstan regions, covering two cities and nine rural settlements.

The purpose of this stage of the project was an in-depth analysis of the current state of local self-government. Special attention was paid to identifying problem areas and potential for development.

The working Group studied the state and problems of local self-government in the pilot regions of Kazakhstan, developed solutions and innovations for the formation of an effective system of local self-government in Kazakhstan. Studies were conducted in the following localities: Zhetysu region, Tekeli, Koksu district, Zharlyozek village, Mukanchi village, Boztogan village (from September 10 to September 16), Almaty region, Zhambyl district: Uzynagash village, Zhana-Kurylys village, Yntymak village; (from September 16 to September 22, 2024), East Kazakhstan region, Shemonaikha district: Shemonaikha, Lugovoye village, October village, Sadovoye village (from October 21 to October 27, 2024) through a survey of citizens. The data from the sociological survey was analyzed and an analytical report was prepared based on the results of the study, a draft Charter for pilot rural local governments and cities and a draft concept for the socio-economic development of pilot villages and cities were developed.

[illegible]

The members of the research group traveled to the Republic of Uzbekistan, Tashkent, to Tashkent State Law University and the Tashkent International University of Education (TIUE) from September 24, 2024 to September 27, 2024 to participate in an international round table on the topic: "Current problems of the development of local government and self-government the experience of Uzbekistan and Kazakhstan" and "Constitutional and legal foundations of modernization of society and the state in the Republic of Uzbekistan".

The project participants took an active part in the work of the international round table on the topic "Actual problems of the development of local government and self-government: the experience of Uzbekistan and Kazakhstan", which was held at Tashkent State Law University and the International University "Tashkent International University of Education" (TIUE). The round tables discussed key issues of reforming and improving local governance systems in both countries, as well as ways to share best practices. The members of the research group presented reports on the current state and problems of the development of the local government system in Kazakhstan in the context of the grant project.

A constructive dialogue took place with Uzbek colleagues and international experts. Of particular interest was the comparative analysis of the legal foundations, functioning mechanisms and prospects for the development of local government and self-government in Kazakhstan and Uzbekistan.

This business trip was an important step in strengthening international relations, exchanging academic experience, and deepening comparative analysis of local government systems in the Central Asian region.

Conclusions:

1. The business trip was successful, having fully realized the goals set.
2. Participation in the international round table made it possible to present the research results of Kunaev University on an international platform, receive valuable feedback and deepen understanding of problems and solutions in the field of local self-government in a regional context.
3. The materials obtained during the discussions and exchange of experience will be used in further work on the grant project, in particular, in developing proposals for the creation of real local governments in pilot settlements of Kazakhstan.
4. It is recommended to continue developing cooperation with Tashkent State Law University on issues of local government and self-government, including joint scientific publications, conferences and round tables.

Scientific trip of the research group within the framework of the grant project AR23489679 "Formation of an effective system of local self-government in Kazakhstan: state, problems, solutions, innovations" to the Turkish Republic, Istanbul.

International Scientific and practical conference on the topic: "Experience in the development of local self-government in Turkic-speaking countries" On October 3, 2024, At Turk Dunyasi Belediyeler Birliđi (TDBB), Istanbul, Turkey.

The International Scientific and Practical Conference in Istanbul provided a platform for the exchange of experience and ideas between scientists and practitioners from Turkic-speaking countries on the development of local self-government. The reports covered a wide range of topics, from constitutional foundations and financial aspects to e-governance and the role of municipal associations, which contributed to a comprehensive discussion of challenges and prospects in this important area. The participation of highly qualified specialists from different countries highlighted the importance and relevance of the topic for the entire Turkic world.

Scientific business trip of the research group within the framework of the grant project AR23489679 "Formation of an effective system of local self-government in Kazakhstan: status, problems, solutions, innovations".

In the Kyrgyz Republic, an international conference on the topic: "Innovative ways to solve the problems of local government development in Central Asian countries and the Republic of Kazakhstan"

Venue and date: Bishkek, the Republic of Kyrgyzstan.

INSTITUTE OF STATE AND LAW OF THE NATIONAL ACADEMY OF SCIENCES OF THE KYRGYZ REPUBLIC. March 18, 2025

Purpose: To discuss and search for innovative solutions for the development of local self-government in Central Asian countries, with a special focus on the Republic of Kazakhstan.

The conference has become an important platform for the exchange of experience and knowledge between scientists and practitioners from Kyrgyzstan and Kazakhstan. Special attention was paid to innovative approaches to solving the problems of local self-government, which is directly related to the objectives of the grant project on the formation of an effective system of local self-government in Kazakhstan. The participation of high-ranking representatives of academic circles and local governments of both countries underlines the relevance and importance of the issues under discussion.

The members of the research group took an active part in the XII Moscow Innovative Legal Forum "LAW FOR LEADERSHIP" in the Russian Federation, Moscow.

Date: March 25 and 26, 2025

Venue: Moscow (organizer: Kutafin Moscow State Law University (MGUA))
Event name:

The XII Moscow Innovative Legal Forum "LAW FOR LEADERSHIP" is a significant international platform for discussing topical issues in the field of jurisprudence, innovations in legal science and practice, as well as the role of law in the formation of leadership qualities and management. The Forum annually gathers leading scientists, practitioners, representatives of government agencies and businesses to share experiences and develop solutions to the most pressing problems of our time.

The participation of Professors Rakimbaev E.N., Aitkhozhin K.K., Bekbaev E.Z. and Alibayeva G.A. in the XII Moscow Innovative Legal Forum "LAW FOR LEADERSHIP" was an important event for their professional development and contributed to strengthening international cooperation in the field of legal science and education. The information and ideas received during the forum will contribute to updating current and planning new research projects at universities.

Within the framework of the grant project on the topic: AR23489679 "Formation of an effective system of local self-government in Kazakhstan: state, problems, solutions, innovations" in the period from 06/16/2025 to 06/25/2025, the research group participated in an international round table in Poland.

An international scientific and practical round table organized by the Katowice Business University was held in the city of Katowice (Republic of Poland).

The topic of the round table — "The legal foundations of the organization and activities of local governments in modern conditions" — has become the subject of in-depth discussion among specialists and experts from different countries, which underlines its relevance in today's legal and managerial practice.

The research group was represented under the leadership of Gulnar Alibayeva, Doctor of Law, Professor. The delegation included: Doctor of Law, Professor Rakimbayev Erkinbek Nurudinovich; PhD, Vice-rector for Research Begazova Gulnapisa Zhandarovna; Master of Law, Ten lecturer Ruslan Vladimirovich; Master of Economics, Senior lecturer Nurkhanova Assel Gabdul-Hamidovna; Master of Law, Senior Lecturer Svetlana Olegovna. All participants presented their reports and successfully addressed an international audience.

During the meeting, both topical legal issues of local self-government and strategic directions for the development of higher education were discussed. The participants noted the importance of improving educational programs, developing joint research and a systematic approach to the exchange of experience between universities.

Participation in this international round table allowed Kunayev University faculty not only to present the results of their research within the framework of the grant project, but also to get acquainted with advanced foreign experience, which will make a significant contribution to the further development of recommendations for improving the system of local self-government in Kazakhstan.

